

Novartis Campus is an open network for life sciences. A place where thinkers and doers from around the world can work to push medicine, healthcare and life sciences forward for the benefit of everyone, everywhere.

Making progress together

We act as a launching pad for great ideas, providing an environment that fosters collaboration and supports, celebrates and enables positive progress.

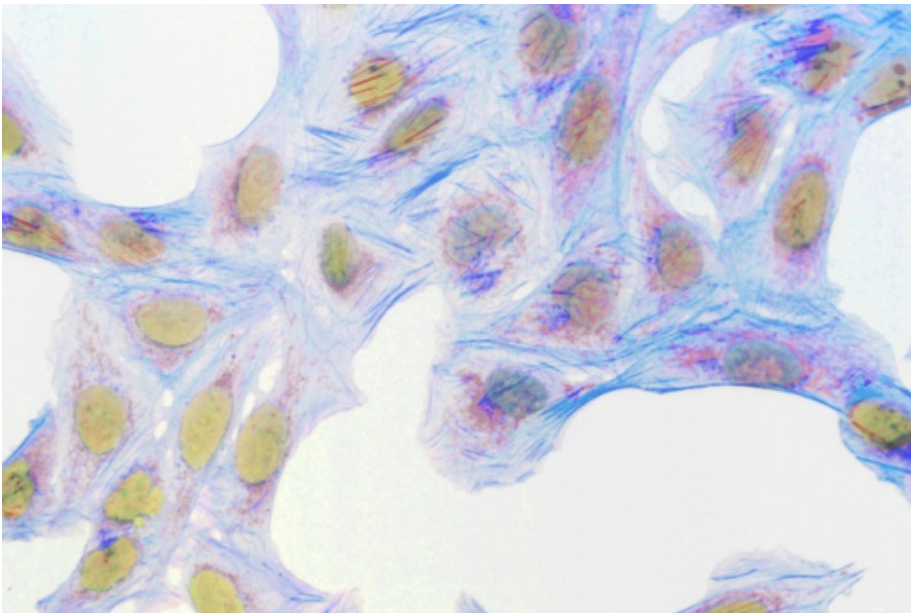

"The opening of Novartis Campus is an evolution into a more open, communicative and collaborative culture. It will establish itself as a place of knowledge, encounters and interaction."

Matthias Leuenberger, Country President Novartis Switzerland

Unlocking potential

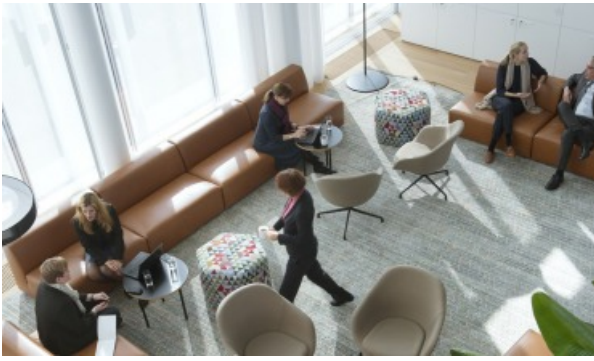

We understand the life-changing power of life sciences, and know that with our support, experts at Novartis Campus can shape a better future for all.

Reimagining medicine

Our purpose is to reimagine medicine to improve and extend people's lives.
